Pred nama je 66. izdanje Pulskog filmskog festivala, koje će u natjecateljskom programu predstaviti četrnaest filmskih naslova - osam u programu Hrvatskog filma i šest u programu Manjinskih koprodukcija, te osam naslova u ne-natjecateljskom programu Kontrapunkt.

Značaj Pulskog filmskog festivala kao nacionalne manifestacije filmskog stvaralaštva prije svega je promicanje hrvatskog suvremenog godišnjeg stvaralaštva, bogatog naslijeđa hrvatske i svjetske filmske baštine te međunarodnih ostvarenja u popratnim programima.

Ključna je uloga Pule u promociji hrvatskog filma i osiguravanju preduvjeta za daljnji lokalni i međunarodni plasman i pozicioniranje na globalnom tržištu. Razvoj novih tehnologija, promjene načina konzumiranja audiovizualnog sadržaja i digitalnih navika opće publike otvorile su brojne mogućnosti daljnjeg plasmana filma nakon prikazivanja u Puli te lakšeg dolaska do ciljane publike.

Iznimno mi je drago da Pula ulaže posebne napore u razvoj i unaprjeđenje Industry programa festivala namijenjenog profesionalcima, koji uz prisutnost selektora međunarodnih festivala, televizijskih nakladnika, distributera i prodajnih zastupnika može značajno doprinijeti plasmanu, prodaji, većoj tržišnoj vrijednosti i zastupljenosti hrvatskih audiovizualnih djela. Program je važan i za povezivanje hrvatskih i međunarodnih profesionalaca, razmjenu iskustava i razvoj koprodukcijske suradnje.

Europske direktive, prije svega Direktiva o audiovizualnim medijskim uslugama, postavile su temelje lakšeg pozicioniranja europskog filma na globalnom tržištu, a na nama je da to iskoristimo i uložimo sve napore da hrvatski film pronađe put do svoje publike, dobije zasluženu vidljivost i stvori novu publiku.

Audiovizualna industrija ima značajan gospodarski potencijal uz iznimnu stopu povećanja interesa stranih produkcija i potencijala domaće filmske zajednice. Važno je ulagati u nove generacije profesionalaca, uskladiti obrazovanje s potrebama tržišta rada u području audiovizualnih djelatnosti i povezanih industrijskih grana koje sudjeluju u proizvodnji filma, s ciljem ostvarivanja punog potencijala rasta hrvatske audiovizualne industrije te njenog utjecaja na društveni i ekonomski razvoj Republike Hrvatske.

Svim autorima, producentima i filmskim djelatnicima, festivalskim gostima i posjetiteljima grada Pule te organizatorima festivala želim još jedno uspješno festivalsko izdanje.

The 66th edition of Pula Film Festival is upon us, with a competition programme presenting fourteen films: eight in the Croatian Programme and six in the Minority Co-Production Programme, as well as eight films in the non-competition Kontrapunkt Programme.

The significance of Pula Film Festival as a national event of filmmaking is primarily in promoting Croatian contemporary creativity, the rich legacy of Croatian and world film, and international projects in the side programme.

The role of Pula is key in the promotion of Croatian film and securing the prerequisites for further local and international placement and positioning on the global market. Development of new technologies, changes in the ways audiovisual content is consumed, and the digital habits of the general audience have provided numerous possibilities for further placement of films after screening at the Festival and an easier way to reach the target audience.

I am especially pleased that the Festival is making a special effort to develop and improve the Industry Programme, focused on professionals and pooling together international festival selectors, broadcasters, distributors, and sales agents, which can significantly contribute to the placement, sales, and larger market value and presence of Croatian audiovisual works. The Industry Programme is also important in terms of networking of Croatian and international professionals, exchange of experiences, and developing cooperation in co-productions.

European Directives, especially the Audiovisual Media Services Directive, have set the basis for easier positioning of European film on the global market. It is up to us to use this, and more effort is needed for Croatian film to find its way to its audience, receive the visibility it deserves, and create new audiences.

The audiovisual industry has significant economic potential with an exceptional rate of increase of interest of foreign production and the potential of the domestic film community. It is important to invest in new generations of professionals, match education to the needs of the labour market in the area of audiovisual activities and related industry branches in filmmaking, with a goal of realising the full potential for growth of the Croatian audiovisual industry and its influence on the social and economic development of the Republic of Croatia.

To all directors, producers and film workers, guests and visitors of the Festival and the City of Pula, as well as the organisers, I wish another successful edition of the Festival.

Iz godine u godinu, svako novo izdanje Pulskog filmskog festivala potiče nas na razmišljanje o postignutom, o putovanju dugom više od šest desetljeća. Ove godine, pred nama je 66. festival; mnogi smo odrastali i sazrijevali uz njega, istodobno prateći njegov rast i razvoj, a godine su to koje nose sa sobom mnoge uspomene, sjećanja, ali i izazove da svako sljedeće izdanje bude još bolje i kvalitetnije.

Festival igranog filma u Puli danas je najposjećenija kulturna manifestacija u Hrvatskoj, te ujedno i najstariji hrvatski filmski festival. Veličanstvena pulska Arena pod okriljem svojih rimskih zidina publici pruža jedinstven doživljaj filma pod zvijezdama. Upravo se u tome krije i jedna od posebnosti ove filmske manifestacije te vrste, jer doživljaj je to koji se ne zaboravlja.

Za nas koji smo uz pulski Festival odrastali, on je više od kulturne manifestacije. Smatramo ga dijelom našeg regionalnog identiteta i tradicije kojoj se raduju gledatelji svih životnih dobi. Izuzetno smo ponosni na naš Festival; iz godine u godinu uvijek mu se iznova veselimo i s nestrpljenjem očekujemo njegov početak.

Značaj i ugled Pulskog filmskog festivala za Pulu i Istru od neprocjenjive je kulturne i društvene važnosti od samih početaka, a svojom je kontinuiranom kvalitetom ostvario izniman utjecaj kako u domaćoj filmskoj proizvodnji, tako i na europskoj razini.

Uz bogati nacionalni i međunarodni program, kao i prateća zbivanja, siguran sam da će Pulski filmski festival i ove godine nadmašiti sva očekivanja. Čestitke organizatorima, prijateljima i volonterima Festivala na njihovoj posvećenosti i angažmanu, na svom trudu i kreativnosti, a svim sudionicima i vjernoj publici želim nezaboravne trenutke!

Year after year, each new edition of Pula Film Festival encourages us to think about what has been achieved, about the journey of more than six decades. This year, the 66th Pula Film Festival is upon us, a festival many of us have grown up and matured with, following its growth and development. The years behind us hold many memories, recollections, but also challenges to make each following edition even better and of higher quality.

Pula Film Festival is the most visited cultural event in Croatia today, and is the oldest Croatian film festival. Within its Roman walls, the magnificent Arena provides the audience with a unique film experience under the stars. It is here that one of the unique qualities of a film event of this kind lies, as it is an experience one does not forget.

For us who have grown up with Pula Film Festival, it is more than a cultural event. We think of it as a part of our regional identity and tradition that audience members of all ages look forward to. We are extremely proud of our Festival, and year after year, we look forward to it and await its start.

The importance and reputation of Pula Film Festival for Pula and Istria has been of invaluable cultural and social significance since the very start; and the Festival has, with its continued quality, seen outstanding influence in domestic film production, as well as on the European level.

I am sure this year's Pula Film Festival will exceed all expectations with an abundant national and international programme, as well as the side programme. I want to congratulate the Festival organisers, volunteers, and friends for their commitment and participation, their efforts and creativity, and I wish unforgettable moments to all the participants and the audience.

Welcome to Pula!

UMJETNIČKI RAVNATELJ PULSKOG FILMSKOG FESTIVALA

PULA FILM FESTIVAL ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

ZLATKO VIDAČKOVIĆ

Dragi sudionici i posjetitelji Festivala,

Pulski filmski festival u svom 66. izdanju potvrđuje se kao ključno mjesto za predstavljanje, promociju i valorizaciju godišnje produkcije hrvatskih igranih filmova, a u kontekstu europske kinematografije.

U programskoj koncepciji Festivala, koju je na moj prijedlog usvojilo Festivalno vijeće, istaknuo sam da su naši ključni ciljevi: povećanje gledanosti hrvatskih filmova u Areni i njihova popularizacija u cilju veće gledanosti i nakon Festivala (kino, VOD, TV), pretvaranje Pule u glavno mjesto međunarodne promocije hrvatske kinematografije, razvoj industrijsko-mrežnog programa kao ključnog godišnjeg okupljanja hrvatske i inozemne audiovizualne industrije i fondova, afirmiranje Hrvatske kao filmske lokacije te hrvatskih filmskih umjetnika i djelatnika kao potencijalnih sudionika inozemnih filmskih projekata, etabliranje Pulske festivalske akademije kao vodećeg filmskog talent campusa u Hrvatskoj i konačno, razvoj filmske kulture i svijesti o filmskoj umjetnosti kao dijelu nacionalnog kulturnog korpusa, kroz jačanje visokokvalitetnih filmskih programa i radionica za sve generacije.

U Hrvatskom programu očekuju nas 22 filma – 12 hrvatskih (od čega 8 u konkurenciji) i 10 manjinskih koprodukcija (od čega 6 u konkurenciji). U uvjetima povećane produkcije i primjene digitalnih tehnologija, uveden je novi nenatjecateljski program pod nazivom Kontrapunkt za ostvarenja koja donose nove estetike ili žanrovski obogaćuju hrvatski film, čime se stvaraju preduvjeti za otvorenost prema novim autorima i strujama nacionalne kinematografije, a čine ga 4 hrvatska filma i 4 manjinske koprodukcije. Kratka Pula donosi premijere 7 kratkih igranih filmova i 3 dokumentarca.

Najveća novost Međunarodnog programa 66. Pulskog filmskog festivala vraćanje je PoPularnog programa koji će se opet prikazivati u Areni. Međunarodni program ove je godine u znaku biografskih filmova o velikim svjetskim umjetnicima: 5 igranih (o Nurejevu, Tolkienu, Almodovaru, Richteru i Shakespeareu) i 5 dokumentarnih (o Keatonu, Fordu, Cliftu, Mitchumu i 4 britanske dive: Atkins, Dench, Plowright i Smith), a tu je i niz drugih vrhunskih stranih ostvarenja za filmofile, ali i širu publiku.

Međunarodni industrijski program, namijenjen profesionalcima iz područja audiovizualnih djelatnosti, dovodi niz važnih gostiju iz svijeta filma, a s ciljem promocije hrvatske kinematografije, umrežavanja hrvatskih filmaša s ključnim osobama za plasman filmova u inozemstvu te rasprave o izazovima u današnjoj audiovizualnoj industriji. Tako u Pulu ove godine dolaze ravnatelji i selektori međunarodnih festivala - od Cannesa i Berlina do Busana i Palm Springsa, međunarodni distributeri i prodajni zastupnici, ravnatelji filmskih centara iz regije te strani novinari i kritičari. Tijekom zadnja tri festivalska dana imat će mogućnost vidjeti sve ovogodišnje hrvatske dugometražne filmove te sudjelovati na međunarodnom okruglom stolu o razvoju publike i panel diskusiji posvećenoj stručnoj valorizaciji današnje hrvatske kinematografije u europskom i svjetskom kontekstu. Među tri događanja posvećena planovima i razvoju hrvatske kinematografije je i okrugli stol na temu izgradnje novog filmskog studija u Hrvatskoj. Pored spomenutih formalnih događanja, otvaramo i festivalsko mjesto susreta (meeting point) na kojem će se svake večeri nakon projekcije hrvatskog filma okupljati hrvatski i strani filmski profesionalci, te u ležernoj atmosferi moći neformalno razgovarati i dogovarati se.

Uživajte u filmovima i festivalskim druženjima!

Dear participants and visitors of the Festival,

The 66th edition of Pula Film Festival once again proves to be the key place to present, promote and valorise the annual production of Croatian fiction films in the context of European filmmaking.

In the concept for the Festival programme, which I proposed to the Festival Council, and which was adopted by the Festival Council, I emphasised our key goals: increase the ratings of Croatian films at the Arena and make them popular in order to achieve better ratings even after the Festival (cinema, VOD, TV), turn Pula into the main location of international promotion of Croatian film, develop the industry and networking programme as the key annual gathering of Croatian and foreign audiovisual industry and funds, reaffirm Croatia as a filming location and Croatian filmmakers as potential participants of international film projects, establish Pula Film Academy as the leading film talent campus in Croatia, and finally, develop film culture and awareness about film art as a part of the national cultural corpus through strengthening high-quality film programmes and workshops for all generations.

There will be 22 films in the Croatian Programme - 12 Croatian films (of which 8 in competition) and 10 minority co-productions (of which 6 in competition). To respond to the increase in production and the use of digital technologies, the Festival has introduced a new non-competitive programme, Kontrapunkt, to showcase accomplishments with new aesthetic qualities or new genres to enrich Croatian film, creating the preconditions for being open to new authors and currents of national cinema, and will see 4 Croatian films and 4 minority co-productions. Short Pula will see premieres of 7 short fiction films and 3 documentary films.

The biggest novelty of the International Programme of the 66th Pula Film Festival is that the Popular Programme is back, once again to be screened at the Arena. This year, the International Programme focuses on biographic films about great artists of the world: 5 fiction films (about Nureyev, Tolkien, Almodovar, Richter, and Shakespeare), and 5 documentary films (about Keaton, Ford, Clift, Mitchum, and 4 British divas: Atkins, Dench, Plowright, and Smith), and there will also be a range of other high-quality foreign accomplishments to suit film enthusiasts, as well as the wider audiences.

The international industry programme is aimed at audiovisual professionals, and will welcome a number of prominent guests from the world of film with the goal of promotion of Croatian cinema, networking of Croatian filmmakers with key persons for the placing of films abroad, and discussing about the challenges of today's audiovisual industry. This year, directors and selectors of international film festivals from Cannes to Berlin, Busano and Palm Springs will participate in the programme, as well as international distributors and sales agents, directors of film centres from the region, and foreign press and critics. In the three last days of the Festival, they will have the opportunity to watch all of this year's Croatian feature films, and take part in the round table about audience development and a panel on professional valorisation of today's Croatian cinema in the European and global context. One of the three events dedicated to plans and development of Croatian filmmaking is the round table on constructing a new film studio in Croatia. Other than the mentioned formal events, the Programme will also see the opening of the Festival Meeting Point. Every evening, following the screening of Croatian film, it will be the place where Croatian and foreign professionals can meet for informal conversations and talks in a casual atmosphere.

Enjoy the films and Festival meetings!

RAVNATELJICA JAVNE USTANOVE PULA FILM FESTIVAL

DIRECTOR OF THE PULA FILM
FESTIVAL PUBLIC INSTITUTION

GORDANA RESTOVIĆ

Dragi prijatelji filma,

od ljeta do ljeta, pa tako i od Festivala do Festivala, mijenjamo svoje navike i uloge. Uz osobni rast profiliramo se u poljima koja nam postaju bliska; tako mali gledatelji Pulice postaju polaznici radionica, polaznici radionica volonteri, filmofili, ljubitelji Hrvatskog programa, koji u nasljeđe ostavljaju svoj festivalski put. Autori predstavljaju svoju recentnu produkciju - tko drugačijim pristupom, tko debitiranjem. Iz perspektive organizatora činimo sve kako bi nove prilike i nove izazove prilagodili na dobrobit autora filma i posjetitelja te predstavili film u Puli na način koji to najbolje zaslužuje.

Da putujemo u dobrom smjeru svjedoče pune arene znatizeljnih gledatelja, uz mnogobrojne afirmativne recenzije filmskih znalaca koji upravo zbog Festivala uvrštavaju posjet Puli u relevantne, pa i svjetske kulturne događaje koji se ne propuštaju, kao i sve veći interes struke, akademskih suradnika i umjetnika koji Festival odabiru za svoju poslovnu ljetnu rezidenciju.

Zahtjevi za programskim promjenama su sve određeniji i teško je zadovoljiti svih, ali kao organizatori ulažemo maksimalan trud u realizaciji programskog dijela sa željom da budemo dobri domaćini i da se u Puli kao filmskom gradu i na nacionalnom festivalu filma, svi osjećaju ugodno.

Upravo zato nastavak uspostavljenog smjera iziskuje prilagodbu novim interesima i trendovima. Stoga se Festival i ove godine razgranao i prilagodio novim zahtjevima, vremenima - Vama.

Dear friends of film,

From one summer to the next, from one edition of the Festival to the next, we change our habits and roles. With personal growth we develop in fields that become close to us: the young audience of Pulica grow to become the participants of workshops, who in turn become volunteers, cinephiles, lovers of the Croatian Programme, who leave their festival path as heritage for the next generations. The authors present their recent productions - some with a different approach, some with debut films. As the organiser, we do everything to accommodate new opportunities and challenges for the benefit of authors and visitors, and present film in Pula in a way it best deserves.

Venues full of curious spectators are proof we are moving in the right direction, as well as numerous positive reviews by film experts who visit Pula precisely because of the Festival being considered relevant and a global cultural event not to be missed, and also growing interest from the professionals, collaborators from the academia and artists who choose the Festival for their business summer residence.

Requests for changes in the programme are becoming more and more specific and it is hard to accommodate all of them, but as organisers we put maximum effort into realising the programme part of the Festival with the wish of being good hosts and the city of film - Pula, and the national festival of film making everybody feel pleasant.

Therefore, the continuation of the set course requires adjusting to new interests and trends. This year, once again, the Festival has thus branched out and adapted to new requirements, to new times - to you.

Osnovan je 1955. godine, a već nakon desetak godina postaje mjesto na kojem su se prikazivali filmovi u sklopu Međuklupskog autorskog festivala amaterskog filma (krat. MAFAF; također Mala Pula ili Prljavi film), godišnje manifestacije koja se održavala od 1965. do 1990. a nastala na inicijativu pulskog Kinokluba Jelen i Kinokluba Beograd. Od 2015. godine PPMI surađuje i na projektu Arhive Foto-kinokluba Jelen i MAFAF-a.

2001. godine u sklopu Festivala ugošćuje regionalni program Toplo-Hladno, a od 2008. atrij Povijesnog i pomorskog muzeja Istre postaje redovita stanica filmskih ljetnih večeri koje se održavaju prije Festivala, odnosno posljednjih nekoliko godina poslije, u kolovozu kao poseban festivalski program P.S. Pula.

Povodom 60. obljetnice Pule izradili su koncept i postavili Obljetničku izložbu na tri lokacije (Zerostrasse, Giardini, Forum) kojom su prikazali crteže iz povijesti najstarijeg i najposjećenijeg hrvatskog festivala, njegov utjecaj na život u Puli i njezine građane, značaj za Pulu i Istru te ulogu koju ima u domaćoj filmskoj proizvodnji na nacionalnoj, ali i europskoj razini. The Historical and Maritime Museum of Istria - Museo storico e navale dell' Istria - is a specialised regional museum, a public cultural and scientific institution operating in the area of Istria County in museum activities in line with the Museum Act.

The Museum was founded in 1955, and already after some ten years became a venue for film screenings as part of the Interclub Amateur and Artist Film Festival (MAFAF, also called Mala Pula, and Prljavi film), an annual event that took place from 1965 to 1990. It was initiated by Jelen Cinema Club from Pula and Cinema Club Belgrade. Since, 2015, the Historical and Maritime Museum has been a collaborator on the project of archives of Jelen Cinema Club and MAFAF.

In 2001, as part of Pula Film Festival, the Museum was the venue for the regional Hot-Cold Programme, and since 2008, its atrium has become a regular venue for summer film evenings, which have become a separate film programme in recent years - P.S. Pula - held in August.

To celebrate the 60th anniversary of Pula Film Festival, the Museum came up with a concept and an anniversary exhibition at three different locations (Zerostrasse, Giardini, Forum), showing bits from the history of the largest and most visited Croatian festival, the way it has influenced Pula and its people, and its significance for both Pula and Istria in domestic film production on the national, as well as European level. The exhibition also showed the importance, wealth, and exceptional value of the overall materials on the history of Pula Film Festival that have to this day been preserved in various institutions and private collections.

In recent years, the Museum has taken an active part in the activities of Pula Film Festival in terms of preserving the Festival's heritage, and has provided scientific contributions through papers published in the Time Machine.

The Museum publishes the Festival's written materials, and delivers photo documentation and press clippings promptly and professionally, always available to assist with utmost regard for film, the film community and the heritage of the Festival, providing precisely that which is most important for this Award: bringing Pula and film together, and preserving all our memories.

Uvjereni da njezin život nije vrijedniji od života nećužno proganjenih, Diana Budisavljević s nekolicinom prijatelja pokreće riskantnu akciju kojom iz logora Nezavisne države Hrvatske spašava više od 10 tisuća djece. Austrijsko podrijetlo u jednom trenutku išlo joj je u prilog, no u povijesnim previranjima ono postaje teretom zbog kojeg je jedna od najvećih humanitarnih priča Drugog svjetskog rata ostala neispričana.

Firmly believing her own life is no more precious than the lives of the innocent people being persecuted, with the help of a few friends, Diana embarks on a perilous campaign of rescuing more than 10,000 children from the Ustasha camps in Nazi-occupied Croatia. Although at first working in her favour, in the midst of historical turmoil, Diana's Austrian descent becomes a burden, which ultimately results in her story – one of the biggest humanitarian stories of World War II – being left untold.

Djevojka Martina ljeti ostaje u gradu, prisiljena raditi u očevoj pizzeriji i raznositi pize, iako neprestano sanjari o odlasku na Zrće. Dok njena najbolja prijateljica preko vikenda ide u provod, Martini strogi otac zabranjuje svaku pomisao na odlazak. Poznanstvo s povučenićem mladićem Filipom koji većinu vremena provodi kod kuće, igra video igre i naručuje pize, Martina koristi kao način izigravanja očeve zabrane. Međutim, umjesto ostvarenja snova, Martinina stvarnost uskoro se pretvara u krvavu i mračnu noćnu moru.

Young girl Martina stays in the city during summer, forced to work in her father's pizzeria, delivering pizzas, though she daydreams about going to the party beach Zrće. She starts a relationship with a young man, Filip, who spends most of his time at home playing videogames and ordering pizza. When Martina's best friend goes to have fun over the weekend, her strict father forbids her to go, so Martina uses Filip to circumvent her father's ban. However, instead of her dreams coming true, Martina's reality quickly turns into a bloody nightmare.

U jednom trenutku život djevojčice Una se sasvim preokrene: djeda otmu izvanzemaljci, a mama iznenadno kolabira. U podrumu kuće slučajno otkrije da je djed i sam izvanzemaljac čiji se brod davno srušio, a tu je ostao njegov pilot, mali mrzovoljni robot. Una i robotić imaju manje od 24 sata pronaći i spasiti djeda. Kroz tu nesvakidašnju pustolovinu izgradit će se njihovo prijateljstvo, čistu robotsku logiku zamijenit će emocije, a Unina nesebična ljubav naći će načina kako spasiti svoju izvanzemaljsku obitelj.

The entire life of the girl Una is turned upside down: her grandpa is abducted by aliens, and her mother suddenly collapses. In her basement, Una accidentally discovers that her grandpa is an alien himself. His spaceship crashed planet some time ago, and there's still the pilot there, a small, grumpy robot. Una and the robot have less than 24 hours to find and rescue her grandpa. The unusual adventure will result in their friendship, with rational robot logic replaced by emotions, and Una's selfless love will find a way to save her alien family.

Hrvatska, sedam godina nakon bankrota. Mala grupa bogatih još je bogatija, a siromašni još siromašniji. Na svjetskoj razini je još veća borba – voda postaje dragocjenija od nafte. Da bi se domogli, moćnici ne prezaju zaratiti, uništiti, pa čak ni ubaciti zombi-virus! Zagrebačkog bonvivana Miću, naviklog na salone za masažu, restorane i kina u kojima prati filmski serijal svoje omiljene glumice Franke Anić, zombi-epidemija zateći će potpuno nespremnog. Ipak, hrabro kreće u odiseju praćen svojom filmskom heroinom s jednim jedinim, ali teško ostvarivim ciljem: preživjeti!

Croatia, seven years after bankruptcy. A handful of the rich have gotten richer, and the poor even poorer. There is a fight going on in the world – water has become more precious than oil. In order to get hold of it, the powerful are ready to start wars, conquer, destroy, and even plant a zombie-virus! Mićo, a bon vivant from Zagreb, whose daily routine includes massage parlours, restaurants, and cinemas, where he watches a movie series featuring his favourite actress Franka Anić, is caught completely off guard by the zombie-epidemics. Nevertheless, he boldly embarks on an odyssey accompanied by his movie heroine, with a single, but highly unattainable goal: to survive!

Marko gotovo nikad nije sam: sa svih ga strana okružuje obitelj, prijatelji i kvartovski dušebrižnici. No najmanje kontakta ima s osobom koju voli najviše – sa svojom kćeri koja živi s majkom. Kada pokrene postupak da mu se odobri češće viđanje djeteta, Marko ulazi u svijet socijalne službe u raspadu. Njegova snažna očinska ljubav ujedno je izvor njegove patnje, ali i najveće radosti.

Marko is hardly ever alone: he is surrounded by family, friends, and neighbourhood fixers. However, he has the least contact with the person he loves the most - his daughter, who lives with her mother. When he starts the proceedings to get more visiting rights, Marko steps into a social services system in disarray. The strong parental love is at the same time the source of his misery and of his greatest joy.

Šestero mladih odlučuje iskoristiti proljetnu ravnodnevnicu 2015. kao izgovor za organizaciju velikog tulumu. Dvoje će pripremiti stan, dvoje nabaviti piće, a dvoje travu i svi će se prije ponoći naći na tulumu i dočekati proljeće. Ili neće, ovisno o tome kako riješe zapreke na putu na kojem upoznajemo mnoge čari Zagreba, života i noćnog života u Zagrebu, a likovi upoznaju sami sebe i jedni druge.

Six young friends decide that the 2015 spring equinox is a great reason to throw a party. Two of them will prepare the venue, the other two will get the booze, and the last two will get the weed. And right before midnight, they'll meet at the party to welcome the arrival of spring. Or not, depending on how they handle the situations they find themselves in while trying to run their seemingly simple errands, in which we get to know Zagreb, its life and nightlife, and the characters get to know themselves and each other.

Svebor Mihael Jelić (Zagreb, 1998) završio je zagrebačku 5. gimnaziju, a kovao je zanat na mnogim radionicama i festivalima (FRFF, Tuškanac, IYMS itd.) i kroz mnoge prigodne i promotivne videoe, kao i kroz kratke filmove u vlastitoj produkciji (Aj na kavu, Snimanje filma bez budžeta, Daneri). 2016. s prijateljem Janom osniva neformalni filmski kolektiv CEFGI. Po završetku srednje škole pokreće projekt dugometražnog bezbudžetnog filma, što rezultira nastankom Zagrebačkog Ekvinocija.

Svebor Mihael Jelić (Zagreb, 1998) graduated from the 5th Gymnasium in Zagreb, and has honed his craft at numerous workshops and festivals (FRFF, Tuškanac, IWMS, etc.), as well as through his work on many commission and music videos, and short films he produced himself (Aj na kavu, Snimanje filma bez budžeta, Daneri). In 2016, he founded the informal film collective CEFGI with his friend Jan. After graduating from high school, he started a project of making a feature film with no budget, resulting in Zagreb Equinox.

U makedonskom gradu Štipu svakog siječnja lokalni svećenik u rijeku baca drveni križ, za kojim skakati smiju samo muškarci. Vjeruje se da će onoga tko ga izroni, te godine pratiti sreća i uspjeh. Ovaj put za križem spontano zaroni i besperspektivna djevojka koja živi s roditeljima – Petrunija, te ga uspije ugrabiti prije drugih. Muškarci su bijesni jer se u starom ritualu usudila sudjelovati - žena. Nastaje posvemašnji kaos, no Petrunija ne popušta.

In Štip, a small town in North Macedonia, every January the local priest throws a wooden cross into the river and hundreds of men dive after it. Good fortune and prosperity are guaranteed to the man who retrieves it. This time, Petrunija, a girl living with her parents and going nowhere, dives into the water on a whim and manages to grab the cross before the others. Her competitors are furious - how dare a woman take part in their ritual? All hell breaks loose, but Petrunija holds her ground.

Osamnaest godina nakon nenadane smrti novorođenog sina, Ana i dalje vjeruje da je on zapravo otet i prodan na posvajanje, i to zbog činjenice što su otmičice beba u srpskim rodilištima bile relativno česta pojava. Uskoro nailazi na novi trag, koji joj ulijeva nadu da će ga napokon pronaći. Pritom se Ana u potrazi za istinom upušta u borbu ne samo protiv policijskog i bolničkog sustava, nego i protiv vlastite obitelji – brižnog supruga i otuđene kćeri.

Eighteen years after the sudden death of her newborn son, Ana still believes he has really been kidnapped and sold for adoption, as kidnappings of babies from Serbian maternity wards were a relatively frequent matter. She soon comes up with a new lead that gives her hope she might finally find him. In her search for the truth, Ana will fight not only the police and the hospital, but her own family as well: her caring husband and estranged daughter.

Sve se mijenja kad upozna studenticu Ellie, koja postaje ljubav njegova života i inspirira ga na sudjelovanje u novom pokretu suvremene umjetnosti. No, Kurt ne zna da je Elliein otac bivši okrutni nacistički liječnik, povezan i s njegovom vlastitom obitelji.

Everything changes when he meets the student Ellie, who becomes the love of his life and inspires him to join a new contemporary art movement. Snimka dijela koncerta i atmosfere Oliverovog slavljeničkog koncerta povodom njegovog 70. rođendana, održanog u Zagrebu u Areni, 11.3.2017. OLIVERovih 70 ujedno je posljednja, nikad objavljena snimka. Uz pratnju Zagrebačke filharmonije i gostiju instrumentalista Antonia Serrana (Španjolska), Stjepana Hausera, Elvise Stanića i Matije Dedića, pod ravnanjem maestra Alana Bjelinskog, Oliver je ispunio svoju davnu želju nastupivši u takvom sastavu.

Footage of a part of the concert and atmosphere of Oliver's 70th birthday concert in Arena Zagreb on 11 March 2017. OLIVER's 70 is also the last, previously unpublished footage of his concert with the Zagreb Philharmonic and guest musicians Antonio Serrano (Spain), Stjepan Hauser, Elvis Stanić and Matija Dedić, conducted by Maestro Alan Bjelinski. Giving a concert with these musicians was Oliver's long time wish come true.

OLIVERU, S LJUBAVLJU TO OLIVER, WITH LOVE

O Oliveru Dragojeviću (1947-2018), pjevaču velikog srca i hrapavoga glasa kojega su uspoređivali s Rayom Charlesom, Stevejem Wanderom, Elvisom Presleyem i Beatlesima, no koji nikada nije kopirao druge nego je iz svih tih uzora stvorio vlastiti stil, teško je napisati tek „dvi, tri riči“. Teško, jer svaka pjesma koju je otpjevao nosi topao, pomalo svakodnevan i svakako vrlo prislan, tipičan oliverovski biljeg. Svojim neponovljivim pjevanjem obilježio je pjesme različitih autora (najčešće je surađivao sa Zdenkom Runjićem), pisane za različite prigode i na različite načine.

Karijeru je počeo pjesmom Baloni a nastavio sa Ča će mi Copacabana, kojom je prvi put osvojio Nagradu publike na Festivalu zabavne glazbe u Splitu davne 1974. godine. Sljedeće godine na istom je festivalu otpjevao baladu Galeb i ja te osvojio srca publike i prvo mjesto svih top-lista. Ostalo je povijest. Usljebile su: Vjeruj u ljubav, Nadalina, Oprosti mi, pape, Nocturno, Stari morski vuk, a napokon i Gibonnijeva Cesarica kojom je obilježio cijelu jednu epohu popularne glazbe u Hrvatskoj. Hitove koje je stvorio nemoguće je nabrojati, no nakon zabilježena 23 studijska albuma, nakon brojnih nagrada kritike i publike te koncerata među kojima se ističu oni u njujorškom Carnegie Hallu, londonskom Royal Albert Hallu, pariškoj Olympiji te sidnejskoj Operi (a te su dvorane prilično nedostižne većini pjevača hrvatske zabavne glazbe) – Oliver je uvijek ostajao Oliver. Jednostavan, pristupačan i blizak.

Oliver Dragojević okušao se u različitim žanrovima, pa je tako u nekoliko navrata pjevao i za filmsku publiku. Ne uvijek, ne često, ali ponekad jest. Tako se njegov glas mogao čuti na špicama filmova Boško Buha Branka Bauera (1978), Duga mračna noć Antuna Vrdoljaka (2004), Vjerujem u anđele Nikše Sviličića (2009) te u nekoć vrlo popularnoj televizijskoj seriji Vruć vetar Aleksandra Đorđevića (1980). Pjesme za filmove snimane su u širokom vremenskom rasponu, pa upravo one svjedoče o promjeni stilskog izraza autora za koje je Oliver pjevao, ali i o suptilnim interpretativnim nijansama kojima je reagirao na filmske sadržaje.

Film Boško Buha snimljen je prema istinitoj priči o najmlađem heroju Drugog svjetskog rata, Bošku Buhi (Boško je bio rodom iz Virovitice). Pjesma Nek nas sete ove slike (glazbu je napisao Zoran Simjanović, a tekst Duško Radić) narativne je strukture – ukoliko ponavlja filmski sadržaj o dječjoj igri koju prekida pucanj prave puške. U njoj nema ničeg pompoznog; to je dirljiva pjesma koju Oliver interpretira s blagim tremolom u glasu, naglašavajući pojedine riječi (naročito dirljivo pjeva refren: „mali, mali za vojnike...“).

Televizijska serija Vruć vetar govori o Borivoju Šurdiloviću, poznatom jednostavno kao Šurda, koji se želi obogatiti, pa brzinski mijenja zanimanja (odlazi i u Njemačku) da bi naposljetku od brijača postao frizer. Film donosi dva songa: Čovek i brod (kao naslovnu temu) i A sad adio (skladanu za odjavnu špicu) – oba je napisao Vojkan Borisavljević i oba je izveo Oliver. Pjesma A sad adio zaživjela je nakon filma u različitim interpretacijama različitih pjevača, ali je najuspjelija ostala upravo njegova profinjena izvedba.

Pjesmu Jesen stiže, dunjo moja izabrao je Antun Vrdoljak da metaforički odrazi život glavnog junaka Ive tijekom i nakon Drugog svjetskog rata u filmu Duga mračna noć. Radi se o mađarskoj starogradskoj pjesmi čiji je autor glazbe i stihova Bogdán István. Zaintrigiran baladnim karakterom melodije i alegorijama u tekstu, Oliver je Jesen stiže, dunjo moja otpjevao otkrivajući široke glasovne mogućnosti, a istovremeno ističući posebnost glazbe koja nosi i svojevrsni slavonski štih. Teško je reći da je pjevao slavonski – slavonski štih dan je mandolinama u pratećem ansamblu, strukturom i melodijskim kretanjem, a ne načinom pjevanja. Isto tako, teško bi bilo reći da je pjesmu Vjerujem u anđele iz istoimenog filma Nikše Sviličića Oliver pjevao mediteranski (što bi bilo logično, s obzirom da je rodom bio vezan uz Dalmaciju) – dapače, tu je pjesmu ponekad izvodio na ikavici (s „virujen“), a ponekad na ijekavici (s „vjerujem“). Možda je najtočnije reći da je uvijek pjevao svojim sveltrenskim, univerzalnim stilom, koji ga je proslavio i koji mu je donio brojne nagrade.

I pjesma Vjerujem u anđele 2011. godine nagrađena je Porinom za najbolju originalnu vokalnu ili instrumentalnu skladbu za kazalište, film i/ili televiziju te je time dopunila Oliverovu bogatu kolekciju nagrada (među kojima je čak osam Porina; a ne smijemo zaboraviti ni odličje Reda Danice hrvatske s likom Marka Marulića). Pjevanje je bilo Oliverov život – bez toga jednostavno nije mogao. A pjevao je uvijek sa srcem, pa je tako izvodio i pjesme za filmove. Nije radio razliku između žanrova; pjesme je jednostavno duboko osjećao i tako ih interpretirao. Nije čudno da su u nizu izvedbi jedne pjesme Oliverove interpretacije najbolje; isto tako, nije čudno da su pjesme koje je pjevao za filmove nadišle svoj medij te postale popularne i izvan njega.

Hvala mu na tome; hvala mu na svim pjesmama uz koje ćemo ga se uvijek sjećati.

Irena Paulus

It is hard to write only two or three words about Oliver Dragojević (1947-2018), singer with a big heart and raspy voice, who has been compared to Ray Charles, Stevie Wonder, Elvis Presley, and the Beatles, who has never copied others, but has created his own style out of all of his role models. It is hard because each of his songs has a warm, a bit everyday and homey, typical Oliver dimension. His unique singing has marked songs by different authors (he most often worked with Zdenko Runjić), written for various occasions and in different ways.

Oliver started his career with the song Baloni, and carried on with Ča će mi Copacabana, which won him his first Audience Award at Split Festival in 1974. The following year, he sang his ballad Galeb i ja at the same festival, and won the heart of the audience and the number one spot on all charts. And the rest is history. He released songs Vjeruj u ljubav, Nadalina, Oprosti mi pape, Nocturna, Stari morski vuk, and then Cesarica, written by Gibonni, which marked an entire era in Croatian popular music. He made countless hits, recorded 23 studio albums, won numerous awards from critics and audiences, gave countless concerts, of which those at Carnegie Hall in New York, Royal Albert Hall in London, Olympia in Paris and the Sydney Opera especially stand out (these are rather unattainable for most Croatian pop singers), and still, Oliver always remained Oliver. Simple, open, and familiar.

Oliver Dragojević worked across genres, and sang for film audiences several times: not always, not frequently, but sometimes. His voice marked the opening credits of the films Boško Buha, directed by Branko Bauer (1978); Long Dark Night, directed by Antun Vrdoljak (2004); I Believe in Angels, directed by Nikša Sviličić (2009); and the then very popular TV series Hot Wind directed by Aleksandar Đorđević (1980). The songs written for films span a long time period, and are the perfect witness of the development in the stylistic expression of authors whose songs Oliver sang, but also of subtle interpretation nuances as responses to different films.

The film Boško Buha is based on a true story about the youngest hero of the Second World War, Boško Buha (originally from Virovitica). The song Nek nas sete ove slike (music by Zoran Simjanović, lyrics by Duško Radić) is of a narrative structure - it is a summary of film events about children playing and hearing a gunshot. There is nothing pompous about the song: it is touching, and Oliver interprets it with a slight tremolo in his voice, enunciating some of the words (especially touching is the chorus: Little, little to be soldiers...).

The TV series Hot Wind follows Borivoj Šurdilović, known simply as Šurda, who wants to get rich, and quickly changes professions (he also leaves for Germany), only to end up as a hairdresser. The series has two prominent songs: Čovjek i brod (as the theme song) and A sad adio (composed for the closing credits). Both songs were written by Vojkan Borisavljević and performed by Oliver Dragojević. The song A sad adio (And Now, Goodbye) has been interpreted by various singers, but Oliver's refined interpretation remains the most successful.

Antun Vrdoljak chose the song Jesen stiže, dunjo moja for the film Long Dark Night to serve as a metaphorical reflection of the life of the protagonist, Ivo, during and after the Second World War. It is a Hungarian urban traditional folk song written by Bogdán István. Intrigued by the ballad character of the melody and the allegorical lyrics, Oliver sang Jesen stiže, dunjo moja revealing his range of vocal capabilities, but also emphasising the distinctiveness of the music that has a certain hint of the Slavonia region. It is hard to say that his singing is 'Slavonian' - it is the mandolins in the ensemble, the structure and the melodic motion, not the singing style. It is equally hard to say that he sang the song Vjerujem u anđele (I Believe in Angels) from the film of the same name, directed by Nikša Sviličić, in a 'Mediterranean' style - which would be logical, seeing how he comes from Dalmatia - indeed, he sometimes sang the song in Ikavian dialect, and other times in Ijekavian dialect. It is perhaps most accurate to say he sang in his own timeless, universal style, which made him famous and brought him a plethora of awards.

The song Vjerujem u anđele won the Porin Award for best original vocal or instrumental composition for theatre, film and/or television in 2011, and has added to Oliver's rich collection of awards (including eight Porin Awards, and we must not forget the Order of Danica Hrvatska with the image of Marko Marulić). Singing was Oliver's whole life - he simply could not live without it - and he always sang with heart. He sang the songs for film with heart, as well; he did not differentiate between genres, he simply felt the songs deeply and interpreted them accordingly. It is no wonder, then, that Oliver's interpretations are the best in a range of different versions of a song. Equally, it is no wonder that the songs he sang for films have become popular beyond the films themselves.

We thank him for that; for all the songs which will keep him alive in our memory forever.

Izložba tematizira opus istaknutog grafičkog dizajnera Mihajla Arsovskog specifično u području oblikovanja knjiga i stručne periodike, te obuhvaća publikacije dizajnirane u vremenskom rasponu od ranih šezdesetih godina 20. stoljeća do današnjih dana.

"Mihajlo Arsovski nesumnjivo je jedna od najznačajnijih figura hrvatskog grafičkog dizajna uopće, štoviše pojedini dijelovi njegovog opusa, kao veće cjeline ili pojedinačni fragmenti – prije svega plakati, naslovnice knjiga i časopisa ili fascinantne kompozicije teksta, slovnih znakova, tekstura i slika – i sami su stekli svoj vlastiti mitski status, voljeni od onih u čijem su pogledu zatirali, obožavani od svih koji pažljivije čitaju njihov pažljivo nijansirani vizualni vokabular. Kao što je mnogo puta rečeno, za razliku od većine drugih dizajnera tog perioda, Arsovski u dizajnu ne dolazi iz slikarstva i ilustracije odnosno arhitekture. Stoga je njegov dizajnerski pristup bitno utemeljen na tipografiji, oblikovanju slovima. Kod Arsovskog slovo nije primarno shvaćeno kao područje književnog, literarnog, pjesničkog, poetskog, nego upravo vizualnog. Slovo, riječ, tu se javljaju kao vizualna činjenica, forma i kontraforma (uvijek izuzetno važna u tipografiji), prostor, volumen i slično. Svi dizajneri služe se tipografijom, ali nitko ne koristi tipografiju i njene izražajne mogućnosti na sasvim isti način kao on. Ni princip kolažiranja nije izmislio (iako ga je u domaćoj sredini možda i najsnažnije popularizirao), ali ga je internalizirao na toliko specifičan način da je i njegovim suvremenicima i kasnijim generacijama vjerojatno bilo jasno da ga ne mogu slijediti bez da upadnu u zamku manire iz koje će se teško izvući. Tu sigurno leži jedan od problema s recepcijom Arsovskog u domaćoj kulturnoj sredini, kao nekog tko ju jest duboko obilježio i dotaknuo mnoge njene bitne sastavnice, ali je svejedno ostao iskorijenjen iz nje." (iz predgovora Marka Goluba i Dejana Kršića)

The exhibition presents the body of work by prominent graphic designer Mihajlo Arsovski in graphic design of books and scholarly journals, and includes issues designed in the time period from the early 1960s to today.

"Mihajlo Arsovski is undoubtedly one of the most significant figures of Croatian graphic design in general. Moreover, some parts of his body of work, as larger units or individual fragments - primarily posters, book and magazine covers or fascinating compositions of text, alphanumeric characters, textures and pictures - have gained their own myth-like status, loved by those whose eyes glimmer when seeing them, adored by all those who read their nuanced visual vocabulary in more detail. As has been said many times, as opposed to most other designers of the said period, Arsovski did not come into design from painting or illustration or architecture. His designer approach is thus more grounded in typography, in letter design. In Arsovski's work, the letter is not primarily understood as a field of the literary or the poetic, but of the visual. Letters and words is where space, volume and similar spring up as visual fact, form and counterform (always extremely important in typography). All designers use typography, but nobody uses typography and its expressive possibilities in quite the same way as he does. He did not invent the collage principle either (even though he was the strongest influence in making it popular in our area), but he has internalised it in such a specific way that even his contemporaries and later generations knew clearly that they could follow him without falling into a trap they would have difficulty getting out of. This is one of the issues with the perception of Arsovski in the domestic cultural surroundings, as somebody who has left a deep mark and has touched its important elements, but has nevertheless been left uprooted from it." (from the foreword by Marko Golub and Dejan Kršić)

Fotografirajući statiste*, ljude koji u filmskom kadru ispunjavaju prostor iza glavnih glumaca, autor Jasenko Rasol destabilizira hijerarhiju filmskoga seta po kojoj su oni samo nositelji zadane funkcije. Izvlačeći ih u prednji plan, bilježeći osobne geste ili radnje, premješta ih iz anonimnog kolektivnog prostora u zonu singularnosti. Široko gledano, pozicija statista na filmu metafora je geopolitičkih odnosa u kojima su veliki dijelovi društva (ili cijele nacije, pa i kontinenti) izuzeti iz procesa odlučivanja. No ako razgrnemo gusti političko-kamuflačni oblak unutar kojega nas se uvjerava da tome nije tako, uočavamo kako je svima njima također namijenjena uloga - statista. Statisti su fotografirani u filmovima: Danijel Kušan: Ljubav ili smrt (2014), Dalibor Matanić: Zvzdani (2015), Snježana Tribuson: Sve najbolje (2016), Veljko Bulajić: Bijeg do mora (2017), Dana Budisavljević: Dnevnik Diane Budisavljević (2018)

*STATIST je osoba koja se javlja negdje u pozadini i koja nema teksta [...] Statisti trebaju djelovati prema uputama redatelja, tj. kretati se onako kako im redatelj naloži - lijevo, desno, naprijed, nazad - ili samo stajati ili sjediti. Statisti se nikada ne snimaju u krupnom planu, a ako se to čini, tada je i naknada za angažman veća. Često se od statista zahtijeva da čine stvari koje nisu u opisu uobičajenog rada statista, no to spada u kategoriju: statist sa zadatkom.

(izvor: <https://artt.hr/work/statist/>)

Photographing extras*, the people who fill the space behind the leading actors in a film, Jasenko Rasol destabilises the hierarchy of the film set where they are just vehicles for a given function. By bringing them to the forefront, recording their personal gestures or actions, he transfers them from the anonymous collective space into the zone of singularity. In a more general sense, the position of extras in film is a metaphor of geopolitical relationships, where large parts of the society (or whole nations, and even continents) are excluded from the decision-making process. But if we move through the thick political-camouflage cloud that assures us it isn't so, we notice that all of them are also cast as - extras.

Extras were photographed in the films: Love or Death (2014), directed by Daniel Kušan; The High Sun (2015), directed by Dalibor Matanić; All the Best (2016), directed by Snježana Tribuson; Escape to the Sea (2017), directed by Veljko Bulajić; The Diary of Diana B (2018), directed by Dana Budisavljević.

*AN EXTRA is a person who appears somewhere in the background and has no lines [...] Extras need to act as per the director's direction, moving as the director tell them to - left, right, forward, backward - or just stand or sit. Extras are never in close-ups, and if they are, their compensation is higher.

Extras are often required to do things that are not usually a part of their jobs, but this then falls under the category of acting extras. (<https://artt.hr/work/statist/>)

Prvi autorski film glumica Sonja Savić realizirala je 1996. godine. Do tada je ostvarila preko 40 filmskih i televizijskih uloga. Najznačajniji redatelji na ovim prostorima (Srđan Karanović, Slobodan Šijan, Boro Drašković, Svetislav Bata Prelić, Miloš Radivojević, Zdravko Šotra, Goran Marković...) u svojim antologijskim ostvarenjima glavne uloge povjeravali su upravo Sonji Savić. Zahvaljujući velikom talentu i nevjerovatnoj moći transformacije, ostvarila je uloge koje su joj donijele široku popularnost i koje su se pamtile kroz nekoliko generacija. Zbog te činjenice, ali i kultnog statusa u umjetničkim krugovima stečenog u mnogobrojnim nezavisnim projektima, i publika i kritika od Sonje su uvijek očekivali najviše i najbolje. Ipak, osjećajući da je medij klasičnog filma sputava i da ono što želi izraziti svojom umjetnošću daleko nadilazi konvencije filmske mainstream produkcije, sve više se okreće samostalnim autorskim projektima u kazalištu, glazbi i posebno videu kao tada još uvijek novom mediju. Kritički odnos prema establišmentu sve više ju je gurao na marginu službenih kulturnih dešavanja.

Radeći do samog kraja svog prekratkog života, ostavila je nedovršene radove koji će biti obrađeni i kompletirani uz pomoć njenih bliskih suradnika i stručno vođenje Umetničke galerije Nadežda Petrović iz Čačka kao baštinika njene umjetničke ostavštine.

Njenih pet radova, koje će pulska publika moći pogledati u okviru multimedijalne izložbe Sonja Savić: djevojka iz grada u SKUC-u tijekom 66. PFF-a u srpnju 2019. godine, po svojoj važnosti i umjetničkoj vrijednosti mogu se svrstati u antologiju eksperimentalnog i alternativnog filmskog i video-stvaralaštva na prostoru bivše države.

Actress Sonja Savić filmed her first author film in 1996, and has since starred in more than 40 film and TV roles. The most prominent directors of the region (Srđan Karanović, Slobodan Šijan, Boro Drašković, Svetislav Bata Prelić, Miloš Radivojević, Zdravko Šotra, Goran Marković, and others) entrusted leading roles in their anthological achievements to precisely Sonja Savić. Thanks to her massive talent and incredible ability of transformation, she starred in roles that secured her wide popularity and are remembered by generations. Because of this, but also the cult status she enjoyed in artistic circles as a result of numerous independent projects, both the audience and the critics always expected the best and the most from Sonja. Still, feeling like classic film confined her and that what she wanted to express through her art went far beyond the conventions of mainstream film production, she turned to independent, author projects in theatre, music, and especially video, which was a new medium at the time. Her critical thinking in terms of the establishment kept pushing her to the margins of official cultural events.

She worked until her life was cut short, and has left behind unfinished work. It will be developed and completed with the help of her close associates and expert guidance by the Nadežda Petrović Art Gallery from Čačak, which is the heir to her legacy. Five of her works, which the audience in Pula will be able to see as part of the multimedia exhibition Sonja Savić: A City Girl at SKUC during the 66th Pula Film Festival in July 2019, can be considered anthological in terms of their significance and artistic value within experimental and alternative film and video production in the territory of former Yugoslavia.

MEMO MUZEJ • MEMO MUSEUM

Izložba Festival jugoslavenskog igranog filma je nova, dodatna sekcija u sklopu MEMO muzeja. Kako muzej tretira svakodnevicu života u Puli od 50-ih do 80-ih godina 20. stoljeća, tako će i izložba oslikavati neke pojedinosti Filmskog festivala u Puli u tom razdoblju, kada je i sam nastao. Uz fotografije, plakate i filmske zapise, muzej posjeduje i nekoliko predmeta vezanih za film i kinematografiju – primjerice kamere, projektore i projektna platna, a koji će biti izloženi tijekom trajanja izložbe.

Akreditirani, propusnice i ulaznice imaju slobodan ulaz u Memo muzej tijekom Festivala.

The Museum focuses on everyday life in Pula from the 1950s to the 1980s, and this exhibition will show some of the details of Pula Film Festival in the same period, a time when the Festival was established. Along with photographs, posters, and film recordings, the Museum also owns several items relating to film and cinema, such as cameras, projectors, and screens, which will be exhibited as part of this exhibition.

Visitors with accreditations, passes, and tickets enjoy free entry to the Memo Museum for the duration of the Festival.

Cinemaniac > misliti film predstavlja višegodišnju istraživačku platformu koja propituje veze filma, pokretnih slika i suvremene umjetnosti, koja se od 2002. godine realizira kao popratni program na Festivalu igranog filma u Puli. Osamnaesto izdanje izložbe Cinemaniac > Misliti film strukturirano je u dva dijela, kao dvije izložbe, uz popratni program projekcija i razgovora. Prvi je samostalna izložba Gorana Trbuljaka, svestranog umjetnika, vizualnog umjetnika, pionira konceptualne umjetnosti, filmskog snimatelja i autora animiranih filmova, s posljednjim ciklusom fotografskih radova iz serije Skice za skulpturu, svojevrsnim mrtvim prirodama s aranžiranim ready-made objektima kao atributima njegove dvije profesije. Drugi dio projekta mala je skupna izložba Misliti film ... misliti kino, koja okuplja nekoliko umjetničkih pozicija koje na različite načine progovaraju o prostorima kina kroz radove koji prelamaju različita značenja - kino kao društveni prostor, kao mjesto sjećanja i nostalgije, mjesto čarolije projekcije, specifične arhitekture, kao fizički i simbolički prostor koji prati i kroz kojeg se reflektiraju društvene i tehnološke transformacije. Izlažu: Mladen Stilinović, Chai Siris, Silvestar Kolbas, Lara Ušić i dr.

U sklopu dodatnog programa u ponedjeljak, 15. srpnja u 19:00 sati, predstaviti će se knjiga Film and Art After Cinema Larsa Henrika Gassa, direktora Međunarodnog festivala kratkog filma u Oberhausenu (izd. MAMA Zagreb, 2019). Nakon razgovora u 20:00 sati slijedi program projekcija recentnih kratkih filmova iz selekcije Festivala u Oberhausenu (International Short Film Festival Oberhausen).

Cinemaniac > Think film is a multi-annual research platform examining the connections between film, moving images and contemporary art, which has been a side programme of Pula Film Festival since 2002.

The 18th edition of the Cinemaniac > Think Film exhibition is structured in two parts, as two separate exhibitions, with the addition of screenings and discussions. The first exhibition is by Goran Trbuljak, a versatile artist, visual artist, pioneer of conceptual art, film cinematography, and animated film author. He will exhibit the latest cycle of his photographs from the series Sketches for a Sculpture, a series of still life photographs of sorts, with arranged ready-made objects as attributes of his two professions. The second part of the project is the group exhibition Think Film > Think Cinema, pooling several artistic positions, which talk in different ways about the spaces of cinemas through works encompassing different meanings - cinema as a social space, as a space of memories and nostalgia, as a space of the magic of the screening, as a place of specific architecture, as a physical and symbolic space that follows and reflects societal and technological transformations. Authors: Mladen Stilinović, Chai Siris, Silvestar Kobas, Lara Ušić, and others.

Additional programme: Monday 15 July at 7 p.m. is dedicated to the presentation of the book Film and Art After Cinema (published by MAMA, Zagreb, 2019) by Lars Henrik Gass, Director of the International Short Film Festival in Oberhausen. Following the discussion, at 8 p.m. recent short films from the selection of the International Short Film Festival Oberhausen will be screened.

ORGANIZACIJA • ORGANISER organizirana u suradnji s Pulskim filmskim festivalom i realizirana uz podršku Upravnog odjela za kulturu Istarske županije, Ministarstva kulture Republike Hrvatske i Grada Pule • organised in cooperation with Pula Film Festival and realised with support from the Administrative Department for Culture of Istria County, Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Croatia and the City of Pula.

Izložba koja obuhvaća 45 godina ne slikarstva Gorana Trbuljaka bit će popraćena i projekcijama autorovih filmova. Permanentno propitivanje muzejsko-galerijskog sustava, uloga i pozicija umjetnika i umjetnosti u kontekstu i percepciji suvremenog društva, odnos pojedinca prema umjetnosti, uloga kolekcionara i tržišta te razmišljanje o nastanku i poslanju umjetničkog djela primarni su interesi Trbuljakovog vizualnog izričaja. Trbuljak nije umjetnik koji poseže za klasičnim umjetničkim disciplinama, kao što i nije podložan uvriježenim umjetničkim, pa ni društvenim konvencijama, jer kod njega je ideja ono što oblikuje i definira konačnu provedbu i izvedbu umjetničkog rada. Premda od završetka Akademije nije slikao, bavio se slikarstvom na svoj specifičan, metafizički način, gdje se inverzivnim postupcima i superponiranjem strukturalnih i kolorističkih elemenata približio samoj esenciji značenja pojma slike. Njegovi radovi bliski su analitičkim i primarnim postupcima, jer Trbuljak boju trlja u staklo, ulijeva je kroz rupe kutija i kovčega na platno koje se u njima nalazi, slika sa stražnje strane ili pomiče štafelaj koji preuzima ulogu slikareve ruke, odnosno slikarske geste. Iako je jasno da se radi o složenom i slojevitom propitivanju i istraživanju slikarskog métiera, dodatnu auru tim slikama-objektima priskrbljuje autorova urođena duhovitost, samokritičnost i autosarkazam, koji proizlaze iz njegova odabira uloge umjetnika kojoj je od samog finalnog artefakta važnija kreativna komunikacija i potenciranje apsurdna kao umjetničkog čina.

The exhibition presents 45 years of not painting by Goran Trbuljak, and includes screenings of films by the author. Continuous examination of the museum and gallery system, the roles and positions of the artists and art in the context and perception of modern society, the relationship of the individual toward art, the role of collectors and the market, and considerations of the creation and mission of an art work are primary interests of Trbuljak's visual expression. Trbuljak is not an artist reaching for classic art disciplines, and is equally not susceptible to established artistic or social conventions, as with him it is the idea that models and defines the final execution and rendering of an artistic work. Even though he has not painted since graduating from the Academy of Fine Arts, he has been doing painting in his own specific, metaphysical way, with inverse procedures and superimposing structural and colouristic elements, which has brought him closer to the very essence of the meaning of the notion of a painting. His works are close to analytic and primary processes, as Trbuljak rubs paint on glass, pours it through holes in boxes and suitcases onto a canvas inside, paints on the back side or moves the easel, which takes over the role of the painter's hand, that is, the painting motion. Even though it is clear that these represent complex and layered examination and research of the painting métier, the photographs-objects receive an additional aura from the author's wittiness, self-criticism and self-sarcasm, which result from his choice of the role of an artist who cares more about creative communication and emphasizing absurd as an artistic act than he does the final artefact.

*“ Dragocjeno vino tvrdog i suhog, ali blagoslovljenog kraja.
Pijući ga, čovjek upija smijeh i pjesmu, a nakon treće čaše tim istim smijehom i pjesmom pozdravlja svijet oko sebe... ”*
